Discussion of District Addition

Commissioners discussed the steps that need to be taken in order to pursue the addition of new districts. Director of Development, Erik Carlson, expressed that once the new historic preservation website is running, that the committee can go speak to people in the district to gauge the interest in becoming part of a historic district. After that process takes places, the district sub-committee will meet once more to discuss the proposed additions and present a proposed map before taking the matter to the full commission. Commissioner Britton moved to recommend the formation of historic districts in both Chauncey Village and the Happy Hollow neighborhood. Commissioner Sweet seconded. The motion was approved unanimously

Public Comment

Peter Bunder, 701 North Chauncey Ave, - a member of the commission who does not serve on the subcommittee - stated that both districts deserve consideration as historic districts.
